

LABCONNECT

Acceleration Through Integration

LabConnect's Data Management streamlines the handling of your clinical data, resulting in accurate, actionable, and timely evidence

Sponsors often receive patient data from disparate sources, which leaves room for error in interpretation and adds time prior to submission.

Unified data sets, immediately usable. LabConnect's ability to fully integrate your data ensures superior data consistency, accuracy, and usability. Our flexible and robust global information management platform ensures the timely delivery of accurate data aligned to your unique specifications. LabConnect expertly manages complex laboratory datasets of all types and supports rapid data integration and analysis, reducing errors and saving you time.

LABCONNECT

Seamless data integration to support your clinical trial success

Our clinical data integration services streamline your clinical trials by managing all logistics from acquisition, programming, coding, cleaning, through conditioning into a unified data set. Our validation and quality control processes ensure data integrity.

- Acquisition of structured and unstructured clinical data
- Integration of local clinical lab data
- Verification between clinical data imports
- Reformatting of clinical data to a common data specification
- Importation of clinical data into our secure bioinformatics web portal
- Reconciliation of lab data against clinical trial management system (CTMS) or electronic case report form (eCRF) databases with coordination of queries and query resolution

→ Real acceleration. Real results. A client had data that needed a complete analytical overhaul within incredibly strict timelines that none of their other vendors could deliver. LabConnect parsed and linked analytical data from a testing laboratory with demographic data from a CRO to reformat them to the client's needs. With field-level validation and verification every step of the way, we were able to deliver on every one of the client's mission-critical goals, all on time and under budget.

About Us: LabConnect delivers Central Laboratory Services and Functional Service Provider Solutions tailored to meet your critical clinical trial milestones. For 20+ years, we have helped organizations like yours handle the increasingly complex requirements of the drug development process without missing a beat.
